Deadline Set For Senior Sentinel Pix

Friday has been set by Catlin's studios as the official start of the 12 days in which all seniors are required to have their Sentinel pictures taken. This also applies to all students who will become seniors at the end of fall or winter quarters, according to Bob Van Luchene, Sentinel editor.

The Catlin studios will be open during regular daytime business hours and from 7 to 10 o'clock each night.

According to Van Luchene, students will have to cooperate fully to insure publication of their pictures in the annual. Record enrollments make it impossible to photograph those students who do not have their pictures taken in the allotted amount of time.

Reproduction of a quality book requires that class pictures display uniformity in dress. Accordingly, girls will be required to wear white blouses when they have their pictures taken. Men will be required to wear dark tie, dark suit coat, and a white shirt.

Four poses will be taken of each student. From these he or she will select one picture when the proofs are presented. No one will be able to take proofs from the photographer's studios.

Oct. 22 will be the last day possible to have pictures taken.

McCracken New IRC Leader

Joe McCracken, Dillon, became the new president of the International Relations club when he and three officers were chosen in uncontested elections Tuesday night in the Bitterroot room.

Others elected unanimously were Mary Wall, Kalispell, vice-president; Shirley Mayberry, Havre, secretary-treasurer; and Mary Farrington, Olympia, Wash., program director.

Patsy Miller, Missoula, and Bill Mortson, Oshkosh, Wis., were appointed to the refreshment committee.

Miss Montana Dance Slated To Aid Future Delegates

To raise funds to send a future delegate to Atlantic City, AWS is sponsoring a Miss Montana mixer Saturday, Oct. 11, in the Gold room.

Carol Chaffin, Corvallis, 1947 contestant, will model the Miss Montana wardrobe presented to her by Missoula and Butte stores. A miniature Miss America pageant is planned, with girls from each living center representing delegates.

"Townpeople and all students are invited to attend this mixer. If we are asked to send another Miss Montana next year, we hope to have enough money so there is no repetition of this year's difficulties," stated AWS Pres. Bette Hillstrand, Great Falls.

Gordon Welles' six-piece orchestra, formerly under Chuck Zadra, will play, and Master of Ceremonies John Rolfsen, Missoula, will direct the floor show which begins at 10 p.m.

Convo Headlines 'Wolfe' By Welch

With three monologues from the writings of Thomas Wolfe in tomorrow's convo, Nelson Welch, special student in English, intends to show the student body the "unquestioned genius" of the writer.

Welch will present his monologues in a split program before and after violin solos by Prof. Eugene Andrie of the music school. Andrie will play "Nocturne" by Boulanger, "Prelude" by Valle, "Estrallita," by Ponce, and "Caprice Viennoise" by Kreisler.

"Wolfe's writings are based on facts," Welch believes. "He absorbed life and transmuted it by his genius into a kind of fiction truer than the reality he knew."

Welch gave a Wolfe recital during summer session. He said that tomorrow he will recite a little more monologue and a little less of Wolfe's history.

Welch was born and educated in England. He studied at the Royal Academy of Dramatics in London before coming to the U. S. in 1930.

Before coming to MSU, he worked in the theater in New York, appearing in comedy roles in such productions as "Alice in Wonderland," "The Cherry Orchard," and "L'Aiglon." He has appeared with such well known people as Eva Le Gallienne, Ethel Barrymore, Joseph Schildkraut, and Alla Lazimova.

He recited before Wolfe's mother a few days before she died.

Doctor Stofa Joins Health Service Staff

Dr. L. Stofa joined the staff of Montana State University this year as associate director of student health.

Dr. Stofa was born in Louch, Czechoslovakia, March 18, 1887, and became a naturalized citizen in 1914. A graduate cum laude of the Gymnasium, secondary school in Czechoslovakia, he studied philosophy and psychology at the University of Prague.

In 1916 Dr. Stofa graduated from the college of medicine at the University of Illinois where he was a member of Alpha Omega Alpha, medical honorary fraternity. He is also a member of the Chicago Medical society.

Under the late Dr. Bernard Fantus, Dr. Stofa served as assistant in the department of pharmacology and therapeutics of the University of Illinois. For a period of a year he was assistant director of student health at Southern Illinois Normal, Carbondale, and concurrently taught physiology and anatomy at the same institution. He was engaged in private practice up to 1936.

With his knowledge of the Czech and German languages, Dr. Stofa has had experience in abstracting and translating medical literature and assisted Dr. Julius H. Hess, Chicago pediatrician, in writing the first edition of his book, "Principles and Practice of Infant Feeding."

For three years Dr. Stofa was a physician with the Civilian Conservation corps, serving at Camp Bridgehead in the Flathead region and at the camp at Thompson Falls.

While in Chicago, Dr. Stofa served for a time on the staff of the Czech language newspaper Svornost, which means "harmony."

Dr. Stofa counts among his hobbies prospecting for gold and he is the author of a booklet entitled "Prospecting for Gold," published in two editions, both of which sold out.

Third Main Hall Renovation Aids Auditorium Acoustics

Students will no longer have to carry ear trumpets or sit in "ear-bangers" row to derive full benefit from lectures in Main hall auditorium. Maintenance Engineer T. G. Swearingen said Wednesday that acoustical tile has been placed on the ceiling and back wall of the auditorium, alleviating a condition that has been the despair of countless MSU students.

Swearingen said the stage had also been renovated by extending it six feet in front and removing the two arches that had previously blocked about one-fifth of the space. He said new lighting had been installed in the auditorium.

In extending the stage, Swearingen said, the construction crew discovered that this is the third time the stage has been extended. It initially was a semi-circular shape and some ten feet narrower than the present size.

The auditorium will be completely redecorated as soon as a radio control booth is installed.

24 and shortly thereafter Central board will put the issue before the students in a special referendum vote.

Between now and the 24th, the members of the Executive committee plan to meet with all active groups on the campus.

The idea was conceived in January, 1945, and since that time the Executive committee has compiled a full report on Student Union facilities here on our campus. This report has been prepared by Porter Butts, Student Union program consultant for Hare & Elder, architects in New York City. He is also head of the Student Union at Wisconsin.

Mr. Butts visited this campus last year and made a full investigation. From this he has drawn two alternatives.

The Proposed New Student Union

A big question was relayed to the student body Tuesday night when Central board unanimously approved the recommendation of the Student Union executive committee that a new million-dollar Student Union building be constructed.

The matter now rests with the students. The Student Union executive committee, which has been studying the matter for two years, plans to conduct informative discussions with various campus groups to acquaint students with the plan.

The building will be financed, according to the proposed plan, by an increase in the student building fee of an estimated $5.00 per student per year. The present fee is $5.00, so the total would come to $10 per year, or $3.33 per quarter.

This amount compares favorably with student building fees on other campuses. Consulting Architect Porter Butts stated that Montana has one of the lowest building fees of any campus in the nation, other fees ranging from $7.50 to $20 per year, with from $10 to $15 being the average on campuses of comparable size.

In a few weeks Central board will call a referendum in which the students will approve or disapprove the increase in fees necessary to construct the new building.

From what we know so far of the proposal it seems sound and worthy of support. The Kaimin plans to present detailed information about the proposal in subsequent issues. We believe it worthwhile for all students to become thoroughly acquainted with the plan through the Kaimin and meetings with the Student Union executive committee before the referendum.

Letters to the Editor . . .

Dear Sir:

All Americans know that two of the basic freedoms of this country are the freedom of speech and the freedom of the press. To be able to say what one pleases or to have printed what one believes is indeed a great freedom. But, like all things, even these two rights must be limited and controlled so as to protect the individual from slanderous attacks and to give the individual a chance to defend himself against such attacks.

Monday morning there appeared, on the walks around the campus, insulting and vicious attacks upon Coach Doug Fessenden. The fact that these attacks were unsigned makes them doubly vicious. My belief has always been that it is right to fight against that which is wrong and to defend that which is right. The American way of fighting for a cause is to do it in the open, give the other man a chance to defend himself and to tear your argument down if he is able.

Now we find on our own campus that type of intolerance for another's rights which half the world is fighting against.

I say that if the "person" or "persons" involved believe that their cause (?) is worthwhile (?) let them make themselves known and fight for it in the open. On the other hand, if they have such little respect for another's rights and do not desire to make themselves known, they had best let their vicious, insulting, childish action pass, only to be remembered with scorn and shame by the rest of the students.

Bill Ganson Jr.

Dear Sir:

The editorial, "Fed Up With the Set-Up," by Martin Heerwald started anew the almost quieted rebellion (in me) against the dictatorship in the dining hall.

I'll agree it is pleasant to have hot meals prepared for you three times a day, but the menu is terrible.

Lunch main dishes this week: Monday, Macaroni; Tuesday, Soup (be a n) sandwiches (battered); Wednesday, Spaghetti; Thursday, stew (mostly potatoes).

I know how many calories it has (I gained three pounds in a week and a half), but how much protein, food value, and vitamins does it have?

Women students under 21 have to live in the dorms, anyone living in the dorm has to eat in the residence hall, and they have a complete right to make such rules. But why pay $40 a month when you won't or can't eat:

Cereal, rolls, milk, butter, cream, sugar, potatoes, gravy, or desert? If it takes $40 a month for bread, meat, salad, juice, fruit (you're allowed one kind), and coffee, I've sadly miscalculated.

So even if Mr. Heerwald does stand in line, he at least gets a choice of what he wants to eat.

Sincerely,

New Hall

Pat Mitchell.

Permission Required

Girls planning to attend the Grizzly-Bobcat game in Butte on Oct. 18 must have letters of permission from their parents addressed to Dr. Maurine Clow, associate director of student personnel, according to Miss Eileen Plumb, secretary of the dean's office.

Parents must give permission stating whether the girl may travel to Butte by private car, by bus, or by special train only, and with whom. Requests for this permission have been sent directly from the personnel office to the parents of freshmen women only.

Girls who plan to spend the night with friends must have a written invitation from the hostess, Miss Plumb said. No University women will be permitted to secure accommodations in hotels unless accompanied by their parents. All letters of permission must be on file in the student personnel office, Main 104.

Women living off campus in private homes must sign out-of-town cards in the office of student personnel. Women students living in sorority houses and residence halls will sign out with their respective house mothers or social directors.

Red Cross Unit On Campus Maps Program

The student officers and faculty advisers of the college unit of the American Red Cross met Tuesday to discuss plans for the year's program, according to Dorothy Asbury, Poplar, chairman of the group.

Shirley Mayberry, Havre, was appointed temporary secretary and Connie Shuder, San Francisco, chairman of the Christmas on the High Seas project which will be carried out this month.

The college unit is sponsored by the Missoula-Mineral county chapter of the American Red Cross. The chairman of the college unit is a voting member of the county board of directors. The activities of the unit are financed by an appropriation from the local chapter.

Chairmen will be appointed to head the following committees on this campus: water safety and instruction, first aid, accident prevention, nutrition, home nursing, public information, Junior Red Cross, group therapy for crippled children, and fund raising.

The faculty advisers of the unit are Dr. Harold Tascher, associate professor of sociology; Miss Dorothea Miltz, instructor in home economics; Vincent Wilson, instructor in health and physical education; Linus J. Carleton, assistant professor of education, and Melvin S. Morris, associate professor of forestry.

Cubs Meet Kits Friday At Bozeman

Passing Will Probably Determine Outcome of Game, Says Chinske

Frosh football gets under way Friday as Coach Eddie Chinske takes his Grizzly Cubs to Bozeman to meet the Montana State college Bobkittens.

"Much depends on passing and pass defense," declared Chinske, "and the team with the best passing attack will probably win."

The coach fears it will be a game of fumbles since neither team has had much practice as yet.

Probable starting lineup for the Cubs will be: Tyler and Harvey at ends, Lull and Armitage at tackle positions, Chaffin and Stewart at guards, McNielly at center, Kingsford at quarterback, Wardien and Walsh in the halfback spots, and Karl at fullback.

Other promising contenders for the first string positions are McLaughlin, Small, and Kafentzis, ends; Berard, Beckwith, and Scally, tackles; Clinkingbeard and Raff, guards; Coco, quarterback; Lee, Matkovic, Myers, and Tippit, halfbacks; and Snyder and Cannon, fullbacks.

The men will have had only 10 days of practice by Friday and Coach Chinske has been working alone. He expects that there will be many rough spots, particularly in the pass defense.

Of the 60 men who started the season, only about 40 or 45 still remain out. Average line weight, according to Chinske, is about 175 or 180 pounds, and the backfield averages about 160 or 165 pounds.

Several former A or AA league all-stars are among the Cub mainstays. They include Tyler, Berard, Kingsford, Cannon, Stewart, Harvey, Walsh, Matkovic, and Clinkingbeard.

The Cubs will play only two home games this season. On Nov. 1 the Bobkittens will play here and on Nov. 7 the Cubs will entertain the Washington State college frosh.

Away from home, Chinske's boys will meet the WSC frosh in Pullman on Oct. 24, and the School of Mines in Butte on Nov. 15.

WAA Gym-jam To Usher In Fall Activities

Women's Athletic association board devised plans for a freshman-upperclass women's "gym-jam" and for two new amendments to the WAA constitution at their first meeting Tuesday.

"To help freshmen and new upperclass women students take their places in WAA activities," explained President Anne Fraser, Billings, "we wish to entertain them at an informal party in the women's gymnasium Tuesday, Oct. 14, 7:30 to 9 p.m. for a 'gym-jam in jeans'."

The board proposed two amendments. First, allow girls to take part in more than two sports in any quarter, three instead of two participation credits may be earned a quarter with the yearly total remaining at six; second, only girls who have earned at least one participation credit will be expected to pay dues of $1 a year.

Girls who expect to attend the Tuesday evening party are requested to sign up in North hall, New hall and the Women's gym.

The party has been arranged instead of the usual fall picnic. Managers of the various sports will give outlines of the year's activities and the entertainment will be arranged by Betty Ruth Caruthers, Missoula, WAA vice-president.

APPLICATIONS DUE MONDAY

Applications for the two vacant associate editorships of the Kaimin must be filed in the Student Union business office by 4 p.m. Monday, Publications Board Chairman Peg Hanley, Helena, announced yesterday.

TO MEET SUNDAY NEWMAN CLUB

Newman club members are requested to attend a breakfast and meeting in the basement of St. Anthony's church after 10 o'clock mass on Sunday, Oct. 12, according to Larry Casey, president. This is the first meeting of fall quarter.

Close-Ups

By BILL BARBOUR

Tickets for the Grizzly-Bobcat game are already at a premium. The first day they went on sale 1,300 of the allotted 1,500 were snapped up by eager students. No matter how clever you may be with figures, you still can't divide 3,300 by 1,500 in such a manner that everyone will be left with a ticket, a seat, and a smile.

It would be interesting to know just how many people made plans to take in the Butte show this year, but were disappointed by the ticket shortage. Year in and year out the ticket shortage brings up the same question—why can't the Grizzly-Bobcat series be played on a home and home basis?

Adding food to the fire of discontent this year is the meager diet of home games being offered Grizzly rooters. Boosters for a home and home arrangement put up a solid and logical front.

Students of both institutions would benefit from a schedule that brought the big game to their own back yards every other year. In the first place, there would be plenty of student seats to go around. Secondly, the spirit and enthusiasm always generated by the MSU-MSC game belongs on the campus.

Townpeople in both Missoula and Bozeman would certainly appreciate the proposed switch. And, after all, it is the home town people who are the real backbone of Grizzly and Bobcat athletic support. By the same token Missoula and Bozeman merchants, business men, and chamber of commerce officials would probably welcome such a move.

According to rumor, a good number of the students who stood in the long ticket line plan to use their tickets on the open market. Scalping tickets is an easy way to make a few quick bucks, but hardly cricket in an instance such as this. There is a strong possibility that home and home games would eliminate this ugly little feature completely.

Intramural Sports Plan Released

Intramural sports plans got under way Tuesday with a meeting of the various team managers and Paul Szakash, intramural athletic supervisor. Plans were made for this fall's program and tentative plans were discussed for the whole academic year.

Intramural football will begin Monday, Oct. 13, with two games, Theta Chi playing Sigma Phi Epsilon, women's athletic field, and Row Houses playing Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Clover bowl. Both games will begin at 4 p.m. If one of the teams has not appeared by 4:15, it will be considered a forfeit, according to Szakash.

Szakash named Bob Petty, Hot Springs, S. D., and Gene Shockley, Missoula, as his assistants. Gar Thorsrud, Missoula; Bill Barbour, Philadelphia, Pa.; Petty and Shockley will be the officials for the games.

Intramural sports will include

Business Ad Construction Plans Shown

Plans for the proposed new business administration building were presented by John Paul Jones, consulting architect, at the Central board meeting Tuesday night.

Mr. Jones showed the plans at the suggestion of President McCain to learn the opinion of the group. The state board of examiners employed Mr. Jones for the preliminary planning of the new building which was authorized by the last legislature for erection sometime after Jan. 1, 1948. The architect met with the Campus Planning and Development committee yesterday and today.

Further Central board business included the decision that applications for Kaimin positions may be presented next Tuesday for the board's approval.

Dick Merritt, senior delegate in charge of freshmen elections, stated that freshmen will vote in the primaries on Oct. 31 and in the finals, Nov. 7.

Bob Switzer, Traditions board chairman, reported that they have obtained a bear for the Grizzly-Bobcat game Oct. 18. Jud Moore, Kaimin business manager, proposed putting the Grizzly-Bobcat classic on a "home-and-home" basis.

Central Board Approves Plan

struct a new classroom building of equal size to the old union building.

Scheme B—Construct a new Union building and turn the old Union over to the University for use as administration offices and classrooms. The difference in cost, according to this tentative report, is almost negligible. The cost of remodeling the old Union and the new classroom building comes to an estimated $1,087,137 while the cost of the new Union is estimated at $1,088,502.

The proposed plan to finance this building at this time is to increase the Student Building fee $5 a year, or $1.67 a quarter. By raising this fee the total building fee will come to approximately $32,000, an increase of $16,000 a year.

Mr. Butts came to some of the following conclusions regarding the present Union:

The kitchen facilities are so primitive in size as to be almost non-existent; cafeteria and fountain space is hopelessly inadequate; storage space for the book store is inadequate and cannot be gained under the store; offices for student organizations and administrative personnel are inadequate; restrooms are inadequate and located very inconveniently; the ballroom is very inaccessible for large crowds; the Copper and Silver rooms are too large for meetings and too small for dinner dances; facilities for meetings of organized groups are entirely inadequate; locker and shower facilities for employees are non-existent; music listening and library browsing facilities are inadequate; lie-down room for students who are ill or have disabilities are non-existent; bowling alleys and game rooms are not provided.

The overall inadequacy of space in the existing Union is illustrated by the fact that universities with enrollments of 2,000 to 2,500 are building unions of approximately 50,000 to 60,000 square feet area, whereas Montana is attempting to serve an enrollment of more than 3,000 with a building of approximately 35,000 square feet area.

"Since the present building falls so far short of meeting the current and future needs of the University, and since so much apparently must be done to the building to make it reasonably serviceable and adequate, a decision must be reached as to the merits of altering and adding to the existing plant, or on the other hand, transferring the existing plant to the University for more suitable purposes and constructing a new Union," said Mr. Butts.

First Drama Date Set

The autumn quarter dramatic production of the Montana Masquers is scheduled for Nov. 20, 21, and 22. ReLoy Hinze, MSU director of drama, declined to announce the name of the first play but promised that it would be a thriller.

Four major productions are expected for the coming school year. The first in November, the second, Feb. 12-14, and two are planned for spring quarter, April 15-17, and May 27-29. The plays selected will be announced soon. In addition, a series of student-produced one-act plays are contemplated.

Mr. Hinze, instructor in English and director of drama, graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1942. More recently he has been a Rockefeller Fellow at Cornell where he received his Master of Arts degree.

Lewis Stoerker, instructor in English, is the technical director and will assist with the productions.
